

Landbauforschung

Journal of Sustainable and Organic Agricultural Systems

Instructions for authors

Publication:

Open Access Journal

The print edition is published twice a year. Circulation: 1.000 / issue

Articles are available online after acceptance ('Online First').

Review Process:

Manuscripts are reviewed in a double-blind process. The selection of reviewers is made by the publisher or the editor. Recommendations can be taken into consideration as long as three possible reviewers are named. Please send your manuscript per E-Mail to: landbauforschung@thuenen.de

File format: Please submit your manuscript as a Word file (single column continuous text without formatting). Tables can be submitted in the text or separately as an Excel File.

Article language: English. Only discussion papers can be written in German.

The contributions should be between six to eight printed pages in length. In some exceptional cases up to 20 printed pages can be accepted. In Landbauforschung, 6600 characters including spaces and punctuation constitute a printed page (text only).

The Authors should be named with first and last names as well as with their professional affiliation (university, institute, street, city, state)

Summary/Abstract: English-language abstract of at least 1500 characters and a maximum of 1600 characters is required for each article.

Keywords: Please provide at least three keywords.

The text outline is in accordance to the decimal system: 1 Introduction, 2 ..., 2.1 ...up to a maximum of three levels

Mathematical Formulas and Symbols are to be created with the Formula editor in the text body.

Footnotes are to be avoided as far as possible, Should they nonetheless be necessary, they should be numbered sequentially and placed at the bottom of the appropriate page.

An Acknowledgement is – if desired – to be placed before the references.

Illustrations are always to be submitted in an editable form. Mark the planned positioning of tables and illustrations in your text.

The authors must sign a declaration that no copyrights limit their use of the graphics or illustrations.

The specific Landbauforschung layout is created centrally

Tables/Photos/Figures: Tables and illustrations should be oriented on the final column width (= 79.5 mm).

The use of double column width (= 163 mm) is also possible.

Please avoid using other formats!

Please also provide sources for tables or figures.

Graphics should be provided as single original files in importable formats (ppt, xls, cdr, ai, eps, wfw). Use 7 point "Calibri" typeface.

Since the graphics can be published in colour, but in the primary and secondary colors of the Thünen-Institute, the format must be editable.

PDF-files must include high quality print options in the colour mode CMYK.

The tables are numbered sequentially in the text and each has a headline.

The figures are also numbered sequentially in the text and each has a caption.

The text should refer to the tables and the figures.

References: References should be made in the Landbauforschung-specific citation format.

Please see the instructions for "Literature Citations".

Please use the program EndNote as much as possible and use the Output Style "Landbauforschung - Thünen.ens".
